Gina,

Here is a mark-up of the What's Upstream materials that I'd like to send to Larry and Marty tomorrow.

I'll include a cover message thanking them for their work and the progress on the materials and for being open to working with us and emphasize the need for the material to be technically credible and defensible and thus the need to provide citations.

I'll also follow up with a call to Larry and Marty, because the edits might sound cranky and nitpicky, and I think it helps so much just to talk things through and explain where we were coming from, to walk them through our thought process and reasons for our suggestions. It's hard to convey thoroughly in a mark-up.

Or, if you'd like to transmit these things, I can draft the cover note up for you (and that might make sense since

Let me know how you'd like to proceed.
